

Allegis Group Services Ranked as Largest MSP Vendor-Neutral Provider

(Hanover, MD – October 2011) Allegis Group Services, the global leader in human capital and workforce management solutions, was ranked as the Largest Global Vendor-Neutral Managed Service Provider by one of the industry's leading analytic firms, Staffing Industry Analysts (SIA). These results were published in SIA's Vendor Management System (VMS) and Managed Service Provider (MSP) Competitive Landscape Report that was released last week. This achievement was aided by the addition of 10 new Vendor-Neutral MSP awards in 2010 encompassing 11 different countries.

Also noteworthy, Allegis Group Services ranked second globally in the Services Procurement (SOW) segment as they increased spend under management from $700 Million to $900 Million in 2010. The results shared in this report are highly regarded by contingent workforce program owners seeking ample insight into VMS and MSP suppliers. The data was collected over a five-month period followed up by in-depth interviews of each responding company, which provides insight of the top VMS and MSP suppliers in the industry. It also supplies information and analytics specific to market trends, segmentation and supplier expertise. AGS is the second largest, fastest growing provider in the space.

"Being ranked as the largest vendor-neutral managed service provider with spend at $2.6Billion, speaks volumes to what our organization has accomplished" says Chad Lane, President of Allegis Group Services. "Having this type of trusted ranking by those in our industry is quite an honor," Chad notes, "We are passionate and dedicated to providing our customers with innovative business solutions to help them manage their intricate and strategic talent needs."

This has been a pivotal year for Allegis Group Services as its commitment to providing great quality and thought leadership was recognized by several clients and industry surveys, catapulting AGS above the rest within the industry. Below is a collection of AGS' other recent accomplishments.

HRO Today Magazine - No. 1 in Quality of Service - 2011 MSP Baker's Dozen
